

PITCHED BATTLE: CARNISPORE FIELDS

FIND MORE AT ATLANTAWARHAMMER.COM!

The herd animals of the Forgotten Continent avoid the Carnisnore Fields, and with good reason; vicious flora lash out blindly, seeking to saturate their roots with fresh corpse-meat by driving their victims into a suicidal rage.

SET-UP

Both players roll a die, re-rolling in the case of the tie. The player that rolls higher determines which territory each player will use.

The players alternate setting up units one at a time, starting with the player that won the previous dice roll. Models must be set up wholly within their own territory. Continue to set up until both players have set up their armies. If one player finished first, the opposing player can set up the rest of the units in their army, one after another. The player that finishes setting up their army first can choose who has the first turn in the first battle round.

Do not roll terrain for this battle. Instead, use the Carnivorous Flora rule.

OBJECTIVES

This battle is fought to control three objectives as shown on the map.

A player controls an objective if they have more models within 6" of the objective than their opponent at the end of the turn.

At the end of each player's turn, that player gains one victory point for each objective they control.

CARNIVOROUS FLORA

At the end of each player's movement phase, for each friendly unit within 3" of a terrain feature, roll a D6. On a 4+, that unit suffers D3 mortal wounds, and it must subtract 1 from all save rolls for attacks that target this unit until the end of the following combat phase. In addition, add 1 to hit rolls for attacks made by this unit. Finally, this unit does not take battleshock tests in the following Battleshock phase.

Hero units that are equipped with an artifact are unaffected by this rule.

VICTORY

The player with the most victory points at the end of round 5 wins a Major Victory. If players are tied for Victory Points, then each player adds up the total points of enemy units killed. If one player has more total points, they win a Minor Victory.
